

STRONG MADE HEAD OF BOX COMMITTEE

Bankers Are Chosen to Facilitate "Liberty Loan" Distribution.

MILLIONS MORE POUR IN Between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000 Subscribed in This City.

The personnel of the committee which will cooperate with the Treasury Department and the local Federal Reserve Bank in the distribution of the $2,000,000,000 "Liberty Loan" was announced last night. Tentative subscriptions yesterday, including the amounts which many firms have indicated they will take when the final details are announced, were estimated at between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000 up to the close of business from this district alone.

The main committee, which will handle the loan, is headed by Benjamin Strong, governor of the local Federal Reserve Bank. The committee met for the first time yesterday and organized, electing Mr. Strong chairman and James P. Curran of the Reserve Bank secretary. The other members are:

James S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce; George F. Baker, chairman of the First National Bank; A. R. Forbes of Harris, Forbes & Co.; G. W. McGarrath, president of the Mechanics' National Bank; J. H. Morgan, Seward, President of the Bankers Trust Company; Charles H. Sabin, president of the Guaranty Trust Company; Jacob H. Schiff, president of the National City Bank; A. H. Wiggin, president of the Chase National Bank; and William Woodward, president of the Hanover National Bank.

The alternate for Mr. Strong is E. H. Atterbury, F. L. Hine, E. J. Sweeney, John McCullough, H. Davidson, A. H. Wacker, N. D. Jay, M. L. Schuch, C. D. Rich, E. R. Tinker and E. H. Ferry.

Manager Also Chosen.

The committee elected Arthur N. Anderson of J. P. Morgan & Co. executive manager. Mr. Anderson, who did a large part of the work in the distribution of the British and French loans, will direct the distribution of the Liberty Loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the general management of the committee, and will be in charge of the distribution of the loan.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

Mr. Anderson also will be in charge of the distribution of the loan. He will direct and supervise all work in relation to the advertising and publicity campaign, which will be started soon.

FRANCE MAY RENEW TIES WITH VATICAN

Pope Is Expected to Protest Against German Rapine.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. Rome, May 7.—It is reported that diplomatic relations between the Vatican and France may be reestablished. The Pope is expected to issue an encyclical letter protesting against the crimes Germany committed in the evacuated French territory.

Cardinals Amette and Lucan have sent a long report to the Pope containing detailed information based upon personal evidence and authentic photographs of the havoc wrought in the districts from which the Germans retreated. The report contains lists of names of persons who were carried away, with their age and sex.

This authentic list reveals that the great majority of the hostages were young girls. The information was furnished by the French Government.

County Option May Yield Home Rule

Ireland in Political Confusion With Pessimism as to Outcome Prevailing.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun from the London Times.

DUBLIN, May 7.—A week which may be momentous for Ireland opens with a state of political confusion, which, although even the most modest speculation on the whole of the war and the Nationalist sentiment continues to grow stronger against any thought of partition, and Unionist Ulster, if one is to judge by the reports, remains in a state of confusion. The situation is not improved by the increasingly definite demand of the official Nationalists, based on the exigencies of the war and the presumed support of American opinion, that Ulster be coerced.

It is now believed that Lloyd George's plan for an Irish settlement will be based on the principle of county option. A solution is just possible. Unionist Ulster may be persuaded to accept the loss of the risk of losing Fermanagh and Tyrone. In that event the official Nationalists might accept the plan.

The unknown element is the Sinn Féin party. It will certainly reject county option, but whether its opposition will be strong enough to kill the plan remains to be seen. Last week, for instance, the Sinn Féin party declared its opposition to the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

Irish Unionists regret that American opinion is not in favor of the plan. They desire for a settlement of the Irish question, but they are not in favor of the plan.

400,000 POSTMEN SELL WAR BONDS

Carriers From Coast to Coast Act as Agents for Liberty Loan.

HUGE SIGN HERE TO AID Biggest of Electric "Ads" to Flash for U. S. at 42d St. and Broadway.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Arrangements were made to-day by Secretary McAdoo whereby the 400,000 letter carriers and rural delivery carriers of the Post Office Department will act virtually as bond salesmen for the purpose of disposing of the $2,000,000,000 Liberty Loan.

Practically all the resources of the Post Office Department are to be placed at the disposal of Secretary McAdoo. Not only will the letter carriers be used to distribute circulars and give information about the loan, but also will be used to conduct the advertising campaign which will be conducted through the medium of the Post Office Department.

Announcing that the bonds are to be placed on every one of the 3,000,000 letter boxes in the country. Every one of the 60,000 mail wagons will also carry a poster. On the cover of every postman's cap there will be a small card telling about the loan. In addition to these measures a special cancellation stamp will be used on all letters sent through the mail.

The largest electrical sign ever built will be placed at Broadway and Forty-second street, New York, reputed to be the busiest spot in America, to flash in red, white and blue every night an appeal for subscriptions to the loan. This sign will be built and maintained free of cost to the Government by G. J. Gude of New York. Other signs may be similarly operated in other large cities.

McAdoo to Make Tour.

In addition, Secretary McAdoo has under consideration a speech making tour in the interest of the big issue. He has received numerous invitations recently to speak in the middle West.

Telegrams and letters containing actual subscription or estimates of subscriptions poured in upon the Treasury officials in much volume to-day that it was utterly impossible for the department to keep up with them. For this reason Secretary McAdoo decided to be obliged to-day to discontinue the practice it had begun of giving out of the Treasury Department a rough estimate of the subscription for each day. A rough estimate of the subscription for each day is now being given out of the Treasury Department.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

Secretary McAdoo took pains to-day to remove the impression that the figure of the subscription for each day is not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds. They are estimates of subscriptions, and are not to be assumed, therefore, the Treasury officials in response to the requests made by banks and bankers to the Treasury Department are actual subscriptions to the bonds.

CANADA AIDS U. S. IN FOOD CONTROL

Sir George Foster Gives Assurance of Uniform Regulation in War.

HOOPER TO SHARE TASK Secretary Houston Urging Administration Bills Be Rushed to Meet Needs.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—An informal arrangement by which the Dominion of Canada will put into effect the identical regulatory measures adopted by the United States in dealing with the food situation was announced to-day at the Department of Agriculture.

The interests of Canada and the United States are so closely allied that it appeared inadvisable for this country to take any drastic action unless Canada, too, took the same action, thus placing the persons or occupations affected on the same basis.

Sir George Foster, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, gave the assurance that Canada would act in accord with the United States in the enforcement of food regulations. He has informed officials of the Department of Agriculture that Canada has been delaying action in this respect solely to await the stand taken by the United States. Sir George was sure that Canada would be willing to follow this country closely in every move taken to stimulate production and insure conservation.

Joint Commission Likely.

There have been suggestions of an international food commission sitting in Washington to handle American and allied food problems. If it is created, the American member probably would be Herbert C. Hoover.

Although Mr. Hoover's place in the Government's food control programme has not been determined finally, there are indications to-day that he would be given direction of food exports and later of price fixing measures. If Congress passes the Administration's food bill.

The Department of Agriculture is fully equipped to enforce domestic regulations contained in the legislation, but the problem of apportioning food among the Allies may be left largely to Mr. Hoover. Under the bill the President would be empowered to name an agency to deal with price fixing. This, it is understood, if made necessary probably would be left to the defense council, with Mr. Hoover supervising.

Suggest Business Aid.

Mr. Hoover will see President Wilson Wednesday to report on food conditions abroad. To-day he appeared before the House Agricultural Committee at a closed session to discuss the food bill.

He suggested creation of a commission of business men to handle broader features of the measures, leaving to the Agricultural Department authority to enforce other regulations. This board, he suggested, should oversee transportation and preferential shipments.

Hoover opposed price fixing for perishables but said he thought power should be conferred permitting the setting of basic prices on non-perishables. Although as other members of the defense council's food committee have not been named, it was suggested to-night that the committee might be given the authority suggested for the business men's commission.

Chairman Lever of the committee submitted a favorable report on the first of the bills which would empower the Secretary of Agriculture to make a survey of food resources and authorize the Department to put into force measures to stimulate production.

Secretary Houston is extremely anxious for early action on the food bill. "The measures," he said to-day, "are necessary if we are to coordinate our efforts with those of the Allies. The bills will give us power to handle the food situation in a way that the Allies have made. The bills were drawn after we had consulted the country's experts, and all agreed that they were necessary. We have asked we will be further along in a few months than the Allies are in three years."

Hoover's plan of utilizing the United States' surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

ENEMY SHIPS WILL BE USED.

House Passes Measure Conferencing Seizure Power on Wilson.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The joint resolution, already adopted by the Senate, authorizing the President to put into service vessels of the enemy in American ports was adopted by the House to-day.

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

The measure gives legal sanction to the Administration's plan of utilizing the enemy's surplus of foodstuffs as Government vessels and putting them into the transatlantic trade as part of the great international food relief plan, the U-b-boat blockade, "confident that Congress would approve, the executive branch of the Government already has begun requiring the damage done to the vessels by their German crews, and at least they are loading at Eastern ports."

FARM BOND MARKET ASKED IN NEW YORK

McAdoo Urges Whitman to Have Issues Legalized for Savings Banks.

LONG CREDITS NEEDED Demand for Increased Food Production Given as Compelling Reason.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The most vital need of the American farmer to meet the heavy demands about to be made upon him is long time credits, more Secretary McAdoo in a letter sent to Gov. Whitman of New York to-day. The letter was sent as a result of the action of the bankers of New